Not all toll bridges have disappeared yet, though their continued existence is probably short. The Springfield Republican says: "Bridge reform moves slowly up the Connecticut river, after Massachusetts has been left behind. There yet remains between Vermont and New Hampshire 11 toll bridges, and the two states are slowly getting ready to free them. At a recent meeting in Windsor, Vt., of the interstate bridge commission of Vermont and New Hampshire a resolution was adopted favoring the freeing of these bridges. The plan is to have the two states buy them, and issue bonds at a low rate of interest to pay for them, the interstate commission to determine what price the states ought to pay for the bridges."

The Montpelier Journal says of the three candidates nominated for senators on Tuesday: "Mr. Moseley is one of Northfield's most highly respected citizens and will prove a good man for the ticket. Frank G. Howland of Barre is a bank man of unusual proportions in Vermont. He is recognized as a conspicuous financier. He will make a strong man in matters having to do with

The Clothier and Furnisher says "Clothing for outing purposes has resolved itself into Serge Coats and Flannel Trousers of white or gray." These are particularly for golf and sports.

We have special Trousers in white and gray and striped flannels at $1.50 to $5.00.

banker, with all the innate characteristics of wit and sagacity. He has all the philosophy and many other characteristics Westcott made famous, and will doubtless be the 'David Harum' of the Senate."

THE NEW NATURALIZATION LAW.

The enactment of a new naturalization law by Congress at its last session has caused some inquiries as to its provisions to be made of Judge Fay, and to inform himself of its provisions the judge has secured a copy of the law. The new law does not go into effect until September 27, and until it does go into force, the Barre city court will continue to issue naturalization papers to all who apply and are entitled to them. The new law is much more stringent than the old and is surrounded with more red tape, which will make the securing of citizenship papers more difficult by those entitled to them. Under the new law a man cannot be admitted to citizenship until 90 days after his petition is filed, and naturalization papers cannot be granted within 30 days of any general election. City courts are cut off from granting papers and applications must be made to a United States or county court. Under the new law an applicant must be able to speak the English language, unless his intentions were filed before the new law takes effect. It would be well for all prospective citizens in this community to take due notice of these conditions, and if their intentions have been filed a sufficient length of time, to take out their final papers when they can do so with the least trouble to themselves.

One of the Boys.

Gayfeller—The boys are going to surprise Jollyman tonight. Everybody is going to take a bottle of something along. Tightwad—Good! I'll take a few corkscrews.—Brooklyn Life.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

LUCK.
 Luck is a hammock, where I take
 Great comfort as I sprawl.
 But something after while will break,
 And then I get a fall.
 —Washington Star.

THE TRUTH THAT HURTS.
 "Some people can't help saying disagreeable things."
 "Yes, weather prophets, for instance."—Minneapolis Journal.

A SCOUT REWARD.
 Now, what is fame? A struggle grim;
 Then people point and say, "That's him."
 They haven't the respect to be
 Grammatical and say, "That's he."
 —Washington Star.

Tired of Dead Ones.
 Hewitt—I spent most of my time in the cemetery yesterday.
 Jewett—You must be dead tired to-day.—New York Press.

Sight and Double Sight.
 Some men cannot see without glasses;
 With others the trouble
 Is due to too numerous glasses.
 That make them see double.
 —Houston Post.

The Untamed Shrew.
 Towne—It was positively stupid of Dudley to marry Miss Strongmind.
 Browne—Yes, but he's shrewed now.
 —Philadelphia Press.

How He Got It.
 Said the physician to the merchant,
 "A vacation will put you at your best."
 So the merchant closed to advertise
 And soon got the much needed rest.
 —Chicago News.

Ups and Downs.
 "Smith is not the fellow to put up a front."
 "No, unless Mrs. Smith gets her back up."—Puck.

Homely Hygiene.
 It's often mighty hard to tell
 The ways of drugs and fakers;
 Sometimes they help you to get well,
 Sometimes they make you sicker.
 —Washington Star.

The Worst They Could Do.
 "What do the critics say about your new book, Mr. Scribbler?"
 "Nothing, curse them!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

FACTS FROM FRANCE.

While scratching his nose with the end of a loaded revolver a man in Paris accidentally pulled the trigger and blew off the tip of his nose.

Special bins are to be placed in the Paris suburbs for the reception of the dead bodies of pet animals, which have hitherto been thrown on rubbish heaps. The Paris police have ordered that cafe keepers must use only artificial ice in the future, some natural ice used in the cafes having been found to be contaminated with sewage.

A man in Paris who had an ugly wife bribed his groom to run away with her, so that he could get a divorce. The groom did so, but took with him all the woman's jewels and several thousand dollars of the husband's money.

FRUITS AS MEDICINE.

Bananas are beneficial to sufferers from chest complaints.

Dates are exceedingly nourishing and also prevent constipation.

Apples, carrots and Brazil nuts are excellent for sufferers from constipation.

The juice of grapes is laxative, but the skin and seeds are likely to cause constipation.

The juice of a lemon is excellent as a gargle for sore throat, but should not be swallowed.

Cranberries are astringent and correct the liver when it is suffering from inaction caused by overeating.
